Company: Aga Khan University

Location: Karachi

Category: other-general

The Aga Khan University is a pioneering institution of higher education whose mission is to improve the quality of life in the developing world and beyond, through world-class teaching, research and healthcare delivery. AKU educates students for local and global leadership from campuses and teaching hospitals in six countries, primarily in Asia and Africa. It generates new knowledge to solve problems that affect millions of people, especially the most vulnerable. The University is a private, not-for-profit institution and part of the Aga Khan Development Network (please find more details on AKU at the link www.aku.edu).

The Dean of the School of Nursing and Midwifery (SONAM), Pakistan is the Chief Academic and Chief Executive Officer of the School, a member of the University's senior leadership team, and the primary ambassador for the School in the community. The Dean reports to the Provost and Vice President Academics, and will be based in Karachi. The Dean plays a central role in setting strategy and overall direction for nursing and midwifery education in the region; advises the Provost; works collaboratively with and supports other leaders to achieve the University goals; uses influence to align the school with University priorities; and models institutional values and competencies.

As the Chief Academic Officer of the School, the Dean is responsible for education and scholarship, as well as ensuring the quality and integrity of the School in research, teaching and learning, clinical practice, outreach and community engagement, and ensuring collaboration and consultation with senior colleagues on all academic matters, including student admissions and reporting to Academic Committees. As the Chief Executive Officer of the entity, the Dean is the highest-ranking official in the School, with wide responsibility over its functioning and general supervision over the School's direction and work. The Dean is accountable for the creation and implementation of the School's strategic plans, including comprehensive budget and financial management to ensure outcomes are achieved.

The Dean is the primary spokesperson and ambassador, promoting the School through visibility at local, national, and international events. In collaboration with senior colleagues, the Dean oversees fundraising, communication, alumni engagement activities, and collaborates and consults with internal and external stakeholders.

The Dean builds collaborative opportunities in health sciences and social sciences within the University, with AKDN partners and with the community to develop an academic health system and works in close coordination with other University leaders to promote a close programmatic relationship with SONAM East Africa. Additionally, the Dean is responsible for supporting AKU's role in AKDN regional initiatives, including those in Afghanistan, Northern Pakistan and Central Asia.

Responsibilities Develop and implement the School's academic and management plans and policies, incorporating a coherent set of objectives for teaching and learning, clinical practice, research and resource development;

Identify and promote quality, access, relevance and impact of education and scholarship in all SONAM Pakistan programs, including research, teaching and learning, clinical practice, outreach and community engagement;

Lead the School's planning processes (strategic, research, human resource and fundraising);

Establish the School as the pre-eminent place for nursing education in Pakistan, building on the reputation of AKU;

Monitor and improve performance to ensure outcomes, promoting positive relationships internally and externally;

Recruit, develop, promote and evaluate faculty and senior administrators in the School in accordance with the University's policies;

Work closely with the Medical College, Faculty of Arts and Sciences, and Aga Khan

University health system to build a culture of excellence in education, research and patient care;
