Junior Frontend React Developer with Tailwind & Inertia Experience
Note: Please don't apply if you have never developed the front end of any Laravel application using React, Inertia, and Tailwind CSS. Your application will not be considered.
Company: Zikra Infotech LLC
Job Type: Full-Time, Remote
Location: Pakistan
Salary: 25,000 PKR per month
Working Hours: Flexible (8 Hours), with required availability between 6 PM to 10 PM PST
About Us: Zikra Infotech LLC is at the forefront of revolutionizing small business management through our innovative Z360.BIZ platform. Our ambitious project is anchored in cutting-edge AI technology, aiming to streamline and optimize business processes across various domains. Join us in our mission to redefine the digital landscape for small businesses and set new industry standards.
Job Description: As a Frontend Developer at Zikra Infotech LLC, you will be instrumental in developing the user interface of our Z360.BIZ platform. Your role involves utilizing Tailwind CSS and React within the Inertia framework, integrated with a Laravel backend, to create responsive and user-friendly web interfaces. Your skills will bridge the gap between graphical design and technical implementation, playing a key role in defining how the application looks and works.
Responsibilities: Implement responsive web designs from Figma into functional user interfaces, focusing on seamless interaction and dynamic features. Work with Tailwind CSS, React (within the Inertia framework), and integrate effectively with our Laravel backend. Develop reusable code and libraries for future use, ensuring technical feasibility of UI/UX designs. Optimize applications for maximum speed and scalability, maintaining brand consistency throughout the design. Collaborate with other team members and stakeholders, participating actively in code reviews and project meetings. Requirements: Strong proficiency in Tailwind CSS, React, and front-end development, particularly with Inertia integration in Laravel environments. Experience in converting Figma designs to responsive web layouts. Experience with version control tools, particularly GitHub. Familiarity with API integration and enthusiasm for AI technologies for innovative solutions. Problem-solving mindset and ability to adapt to new challenges and technologies. Strong communication skills and ability to work within designated working hours. Reliable internet connection and a remote work setup conducive for productivity. Competitive entry-level salary with a path to permanent employment and salary growth. Exposure to innovative AI-driven projects with significant market impact. Access to learning resources, premium courses, and professional development opportunities. A chance to be part of a vibrant, collaborative, and forward-thinking team. Opportunity to contribute to a game-changing platform in the business management domain.

Join Us: Are you a creative and dedicated individual passionate about front-end development? Do you thrive in dynamic, innovative environments? If so, we invite you to apply to join our team at Zikra Infotech LLC. Please submit your resume along with any relevant project portfolio or GitHub links demonstrating your front-end development skills.
